Giving Personal Information

Let’s Learn

Your personal information includes your full name, your birthdate, your phone number(s), and your mailing and email addresses. In this lesson, you will practice sharing this information with others who need it. You will also practice asking for personal info.

Warm-Up

BIRTHDAY VS. BIRTHDATE

Your birthday is the anniversary of your birth (e.g., May 20). Your birthdate (or date of birth) is the day and year when you were born (e.g., May 20, 1983).

Practice pronouncing these two words. Then find the birthdate of one famous person. Share it with a classmate.

Questions

Listen to your teacher say these common questions. Practice saying them out loud.

- Can I get some information / info?
- What’s your first name?
- What’s your surname?
- Do you have a middle name?
- What’s your home number?
- What’s your cell number?
- What’s your work number?
- What’s your birthdate?
- What’s your email address?
- Is this your current mailing address?
Dialogues

Work with a partner. Practice the dialogues. Then change the personal information to your own information.

Dialogue 1

Practice giving and spelling names.

A: Can I have your last name, please?
A: And your first name?
B: Corey, C-O-R-E-Y.
A: Do you have a middle name?
B: No, I don't.

Dialogue 2

Now practice giving phone numbers and birthdates.

A: Can I have your phone number, please?
B: Sure. It's 555-222-7798.
A: 555-222-7798. Is that your home number?
B: That's my cell. I don't have a home phone.
A: Okay. Do you have a work number?
B: Yes. It's 414-990-4878.
A: And your birthdate is May 5, 1987, right?
B: That's correct.

Dialogue 3

Now practice sharing home and email addresses.

A: Is this your current mailing address?
B: No, we moved.
A: What's your new address?
B: My address is 45 Arrow Drive. Unit 88.
A: Is that in Buffalo?
B: Yes.
A: What's your zip code?
B: My zip code is 14215.
A: Great. And is your email address still coreywilliams@mailme.com?
B: That's right.

Correct Info?

Sometimes people already have your information. They may check to make sure it's still correct. You can answer in a few ways:

- That's right.
- Right.
- That's correct.
- You got it.
- Yes.

Spelling

Are you giving personal information over the phone or in a loud place?
It’s useful to spell out difficult or important words. Use familiar nouns or the English Phonetic Spelling Alphabet.

A: What’s your surname?
B: Chia.
A: Can you spell that for me, please?
B: Yep. It’s C as in Charlie, H as in Hotel, I as in India, A as in Alfa.
A: C-H-I-A?
B: That’s correct.

Ask your teacher for a printout of the English Phonetic Spelling Alphabet. Practice spelling out your name, street, and email address using the words that go with each letter.

Review (Assessment Tasks)

The last three tasks are also optional and can be used for assessment purposes and/or review practice. Task 3 includes an assessment tool that you can share with learners so that they understand your expectations.

TASK 1

Give students a few minutes to make a list of questions covered in this lesson. Answers will vary.

TASK 2

Have students complete the answers based on vocabulary they learned in this lesson. Answers will vary.

TASK 3

If you want to use this task for summative assessment, hand out the ready-made Role-Play Assessment Tool (page 6), or personalize your own from a template in Shared Criteria for Success: https://esllibrary.com/resources/2352

Place students in pairs and have them do a role-play for the class (or just for you).

Learner Reflection

When you are finished with this lesson, have your students reflect on their learning by filling in the chart.

SPELLING NOTE:

This lesson shows the American spelling of the word Practice. Most other English-speaking countries spell it this way: Practise (when used as a verb; Practice when used as a noun). Make it a challenge for your students to find this word in the lesson and see if they know the alternate spelling.
