Group Work (Student A)

You and your group members each have a short reading passage that includes a legend of Valentine’s Day. Read your passage, and then discuss the questions to the right as a group.

A. Reading

Legend #1

1. Valentine’s Day is February 14. It is not a holiday, but it is a special day for many people in different countries around the world. Each year on Valentine’s Day, friends and lovers exchange valentine cards, chocolates, candy, flowers, and other gifts.

2. In elementary schools in North America, children make valentines for their classmates and put them in a large decorated mailbox. On February 14, the teacher opens the box and distributes the cards to the students. Many schools also celebrate Valentine’s Day with parties.

3. People in many countries love to send and receive valentines. These days, more people send e-cards than regular cards. The cost of stamps is high and e-cards are more convenient.

4. There are many symbols of Valentine’s Day, such as hearts, roses, and cupids. The symbol of cupid comes from ancient Roman times. Cupid was the son of the love goddess, Venus. Cupid was a playful child who flew around shooting love arrows into people’s hearts, making them fall in love.

5. There are many different stories about the origin of Valentine’s Day. According to one legend, the custom of sending a card to a loved one goes back to the days of the Roman Empire. In the third century, there was a priest named Valentinus. Valentinus was put in jail and sentenced to die by Emperor Claudius because of his Christian beliefs. When Valentinus was in jail, he fell in love with the jailer’s daughter. According to the story, the jailer’s daughter was blind, but Valentinus had special abilities and was able to cure her. When he was in jail, she brought him food and delivered messages. The night before Valentinus was executed, he wrote a goodbye note to the jailer’s daughter and signed it “Your Valentine.”

5. There are many different stories about the origin of Valentine's Day. According to one legend, the tradition of Valentine's Day goes back to the days of the Roman Empire. In the third century, Emperor Claudius wanted a strong army. Many married soldiers did not want to leave their families to fight in the emperor's wars, so Claudius ordered young men not to marry. A priest named Valentine lived in Rome at that time, and he felt sorry for the young men and their sweethearts. He decided to marry them secretly, but the emperor found out and put him in prison. He was executed on February 14. Since that time, Valentine's Day has been celebrated as a special day for sweethearts and romance.

5. There are many different stories about the origin of Valentine’s Day. One legend goes back to the days of the Roman Empire. At that time, the Romans celebrated the festival of Lupercalia in the middle of February. This festival honored the god Lupercus, keeper of the crops and farm animals. As time passed, the Romans began to honor another goddess during this festival. Her name was Juno, guardian of women and marriage. During this festival, all of the young women in a village would write their names on a piece of paper and drop them into a box. Every young man would pick a paper from the box and the woman whose name he had chosen would become his sweetheart. Since those early days, mid-February has been remembered as a special time for love.

2. l 4. k 6. h 8. e 10. c 12. g

Group Work

Break the class into groups of three. The students are each given a short reading describing the meaning, symbols, and customs associated with Valentine's Day, as well as one of the legends regarding its origin. Each student in the group has a different legend (paragraph 5). You may choose a few students to read the first four paragraphs of the reading aloud to the class. Have the students read the legends (paragraph 5) silently. Then each student will relate his/her legend to the others in the group. The students will then follow up with the discussion questions in Part B. At the end of the sharing session, you may wish to distribute the different legends to all of the students to read.

You can also play the listening as your students read along. A gap-fill version of the reading (paragraphs 1–4) is available on page 9.

Comprehension

1. Some Valentine's Day symbols include hearts, roses, and cupids.
2. People exchange valentine cards, chocolates, candy, flowers, and other gifts.
3. In elementary schools, children make valentines for their classmates and put them in a large decorated mailbox.
4. Valentinus was a priest during the Roman Empire.
5. According to one legend, Valentinus was put in jail and sentenced to die by the Emperor Claudius because of his Christian beliefs. According to another legend, Valentinus was put in prison because he was secretly marrying young men who would otherwise have to go fight in wars.
6. Emperor Claudius wanted a strong army, and since many married soldiers did not want to leave their families to fight in the emperor's wars, Claudius ordered young men not to marry.
7. Valentinus was able to help the jailer's daughter by curing her of her blindness with his special powers.
8. He signed it "Your Valentine."
9. The Romans celebrated the festival of Lupercalia in the middle of February.
10. Cupid was the son of the love goddess, Venus.

Idioms & Expressions

A. REFERENCE

Teach these idioms and expressions related to love or symbols of Valentine's Day. Explain the meanings, use them in context, have the students complete the sentences, and then get them to write their own sentences using the idioms.

B. COMPLETE THE SENTENCES

1. Puppy love  4. heartbroken
2. pop the question  5. a bed of roses
3. blind date  6. love at first sight

Class Activity

First, have the students write out the questions they will be asking their classmates. Then have the students circulate around the class asking the questions on the sheet. When the student finds a classmate who can answer the question, he/she will then write the student’s name next to the question and follow up with one more question of his/her own. E.g., “Have you ever been on a blind date?” If the student answers “yes,” the second question might be: “Who introduced you?” Try to encourage the students to engage in real conversation during this activity. Follow up by sharing the information with the whole class.

4. Valentine's Day, goddess, flew around, people's

SPELLING NOTE:

This lesson shows the American spelling of the words Honor, Favorite, and Practice. Most other English-speaking countries spell these words this way: Honour, Favourite, and Practise (when used as a verb; Practice when used as a noun). Make it a challenge for your students to find these words in the text and see if they know the alternate spellings.

EDITOR'S NOTE:

1. When we write the holiday, we must use capital letters (Valentine's Day). When we’re referring to a gift, greeting, or a person, we don’t use capital letters (valentine [with or without the word “card”], valentines [usually refers to cards], valentine gift, be my valentine, etc.). You will find a useful post on our blog: http://blog.esllibrary.com/2013/02/07/valentines-day-capitalization-and-punctuation-rules/
2. We capitalize Cupid when referring to the Roman god of love (Venus’s son), but we use cupid when referring to the figure of a winged boy holding the bow and arrow.
